BRECKINRIDGE'S SEAT. The Recent Investigation Will Result in the Declaration of a Vacancy.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, May 13 .- A report will be made to the committee on elections in favor of declaring vacant the seat now occupied by Clifton R. Breckinridge, of the Second district of Arkansas. The report will be based upon the recent investigation made by the subcommittee which visited Arkansas and examined over one thousand witnesses in relation to the assassination of John M. Clayton, the Republican who ran against and undoubtedly defeated Mr. Breckinridge. The testimony which was taken by the subcommittee will be used in favor of adoption of a federal election will furnish a num-practical illustrations of the necessity of the government having general supervision over congressional elec-tions. The case is to be taken up in the House very soon after the tariff debate closes, and there is little doubt that within three or four weeks there will be a vacancy in the Second district of Arkansas. Mr. Breckinridge would have made friends, instead of losing them, by refusing to take his seat after the cold-blooded assassina-tion of his political rival. But he has succeeded in drawing the salary of the office for over a year by his persistency in claim-ing the seat, if he has done nothing else besides disgusting the country.

FIGHTING A NOMINATION.

Why the Democrats Do Not Want Mr. Sors-

by, of Mississippi, Confirmed. WASHINGTON, May 13. - In executive session of the Senate to-day the nomination of William B. Sorsby, of Mississippi, to be consul-general to Ecuador was under consideration. This was one of the earliest nominations sent to the Senate this session, but it was held up in the committee on commerce until a day or two ago upon the request of the Mississippi Senators. It was then reported from the committee with a favorable recommendation by a party vote. The opposition to Mr. Sorsby's confirmation is based upon his alleged delivery Senator Quay, chairman national Republican of certain letters immediately before and during the campaign of 1888 by Congressman Catchings to the editor of a Mississippi paper, and which by some chance fell into Mr. Sorsby's possession, and the assertion that his appointment was a practical payment for this work. The report of the committee recommending confirmation was antagonized with vigor by Senators Walthall and George of Mississippi, and Vest of Missouri, and others, while it was supported with equal earnestness by Senators Fry, Cullom, Quay, Chandler and other Republicans. After a debate lasting almost two hours a vote was taken, which disclosed the lack of a quorum, only thirty Senators being present. Thereupon the Senate adjourned, leaving the nomination still on the docket.

approaching campaign.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The Senate committee on commerce to-day resumed the hearing upon the plans for improving the Mississippi-river channel. Henry Flad, a member of the Mississippi-river commission, opposed the Lake Borgne outlet system, and favored the narrowing of the channel to 3,000 or 3,500 feet, and building revetments or levees. H. B. Richardson, chief engineer of Louisiana, spoke in favor of levees and against the outlet system. Captain Miller, of Memphis, a pilot of fifty years' experience, said he thought the bed of the river was rising. Rocks visible in 1839 had disappeared. There are more shoal places in the river than ever before; in 1850 here were but two shoals. This was due. he said, to closing the outlets of the stream. Colonel Ernest said that when the government works now in progress between St. Louis and Cario were completed a clear channel depth of ten feet would be secured.

Wants of the Farmers' Alliance. WASHINGTON, May 13 .- A delegation representing the Farmers' Alliance appeared before the ways and means committee this morning to advocate the passage of the Pickler bill to create sub-treasuries in different parts of the country for the reception of staple crops produced by farmers. The spokesman was C. W. Macune, chairman of the legislative committee of the Alliance and editor of the National Economist. He said they did not ask the enactment of any unconstitutional measure, but as the great debtor class, as the mon who had gone out in the West after the war and laid the soil under contribution with borrowed money, they protested against the contraction of the currency at a time when their debts became due, and asked that the con-ditions be restored to what they were when the money was borrowed. They asked jus-tice, pure and simple.

Planted a Tree at Washington's Tomb. Washington, May 13. - When the Prince of Wales visited the United States, in 1862, he planted a tree at Mount Vernon. The tree died. Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British minister, learned of this in a casual way during his first visit here, and when he returned to England for his family he acquainted the Prince of Wales with the fact. The Prince expressed regret at the death of the tree, and commissioned Sir Julian to plant another one. When the minister returned to this country he brought with him several English acorns, which were propagated in the government botanical gardens. The regents of Mount Vernon took a warm interest in the matter, and one day one of the young oak slips was transferred from the gardens to Mount Vernon during a visit made by a distinguished party on the Dispatch. The slip grew to a sapling ten feet high, and to-day it was formally planted by the British minister in front of the tomb of Washington, with some little ceremony. turned to England for his family he acwith some little ceremony.

THE KENTUCKY SENATORSHIP.

Democrats in Caucus Fail to Nominate a Candidate and Waste the Legislature's Time.

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 13 .- At 8:10 o'clock this evening the Democratic joint legislative caucus assembled and immediately went into the nomination of candidates for United States Senator. Representative Jno. G. Carlisle, ex-Governor Proctor Knott, Hon. L. T. Moore and ex-Judge Lindsay were placed in nomination. Just as the chairman of the caucus was ordering a ballot a motion was made from the anti-Carlisle faction to adjourn. The motion was carried by a vote of 66 to 46-several Carlisle men, however, voting for adjourn-

According to the resolutions passed by the caucus last night, the Democrats to-day, in the Legislature, scattered their votes, complimenting their friends, and in many cases voting for each other. This is to prevent the possibility of rushing through a nomination before the caucus has acted. The Republicans voted solidly for the Hon. Silas Adams, of Liberty, Ky., their caucus nominee. Carlisle's men are for pushing the contest to a conclusion, but the opposition united on everything but a candidate, hoping to control the caucus and wear out the Carlisle supporters.

The disposition to delay was manifested to-night, when Speaker Meyers moved to begin the nominating speeches. Instantly, the anti-Carlisle men thought this was a Carlisle stroke, and they began dilatory proceedings by demanding a roll-call. After some filibustering, however, it seemed apparent that speeches might serve as well for delay as anything, and so they began. The audience was one-third ladies, all eager to hear the oratory. Representative Cooper, in nominating Proctor Knott, made the suggestion that Carlisle was wanted for Speaker of the next Democratic House of Representatives. Representative Hardin seconded Carlisle's nomination. There is a strong probability of a prolonged contest.

A correspondent says: The vote for Senator in the Kentucky Legislature to-day was night. On Monday there will be a meeting a mere farce—the members voting for each other, for "McGinty," "Annie Rooney," etc., as the humor led them. The object of this frivolity was to prevent an election until after the action of the caucus.

GERMANY IN EAST AFRICA.

Debate in the Reichstag on the Policy to Bo Pursued-Emin's Demand for Salary. LONDON, May 13.-The debate on the colonial estimates was resumed in the German Reichstag to-day. Major Liebert, Commissioner for East Africa, defended the colonial policy of the government. The possessions now held by the Germans in East Africa and their explorations in that part of the country promised extraordinary success. He spoke highly in praise of Major Wissmann's services in forming a model force and establishing stations in the acquired territory. He regarded the appointment of Emin Pasha to a mission in the German service as of great importance. Missions, he said, were highly important in colonial developments. Military rule on the east coast of Africa were securely established, and German capital and enterprise, which he declared would yield a handsome profit, would be protected. Herr Von Bennigsen also spoke warmly in defense of the colonial policy.

The demand made by Emin Pasha upon the Egyptian government for seven years' salary as Governor of the equatorial province of Africa and a life pension, is generally amicable to the influence of his German advisers and not to his own desire to make trouble, and considerable speculation is rife as to whether it will be complied with. That he is entitled to some compensation for his services and their accompanying hardships is conceded, but the question of full payment of his salary dur-ing his term, together with the bestowal of a pension, is a matter that will unquestionably be subjected to serious consideration. and find strong opposition before it is finally disposed of. The demand, however, will doubtless furnish a new and inexhaustible supply of ammunition to the German press in the warfare those journals are waging against Stanley and everything and everybody English.

A dispatch from Zanzibar says: The Emin Pasha expedition, which was dispatched to the interior of Africa in the interest of Germany, has met with unforseen difficulties. The expedition took its departure from Bagamoyo on April 28, and has only reached a point distant five days' march from the coast. It has been greatly delayed by the death of a number of the porters and by the desertion of others. The total loss of porters by death and desertion amounts to one-quarter of the whole num-ber engaged to accompany the expedition. Major Wissmann bombarded Lindi on May 10 and captured the town.

Stanley Tells of England's Mistake.

LONDON, May 13.—The reception to Henry M. Stanley in the Guild Hall to-day was an enthusiastic affair. A dense crowd thronged the approaches to the building. and the appearance of Mr. Stanley was the signal for a tremendous outburst of cheering. The guests numbered two thousand. The Lord Mayor presented to the explorer a gold easket, containing an address from the corporation of London.

Mr. Stanley, in returning thanks for him-self and for his companions, said that the Congo might have belonged to England had Englishmen listened to his lectures be-tween 1878 and 1884. Belgium was reaping 100 per cent. England might have had East Africa, but her journalists see everything through opaque glasses. Germany to-day has the liou's share and cannot fail to win in the long run. The Germans have a wideawake monarch. Wissmann never heard of such things as Quakerism, peace socie-ties, anti-enterprise companies and namby-pamby journalism—all of which are closs to every hearty endeavor made by Eng-land. He hoped the government would re-member the services of his companions and not chill their young souls with the neglect which first warped poor Gordon after his heroic achievements in China.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

Italy's Policy Outlined by Premier Crispi-In Accord with England.

ROME, May 13.-In the Chamber of Deputies to-day, Premier Crispi stated that the policy of the Dreibund was unchanged. It was a policy of police and menaced no one, being solely of a defensive character. "Our armaments," he said, "are not the result of alliances. They are necessary to Italy as a means for defense if menaced in the Balkans. We have always protected the in-dependence of those States. In Bulgaria, acting in accord with Austria and England, we prevented action that would have endangered the policy of Europe. In Africa emain where we are, and Nothing menaces us from the Soudan. CITY OF MEXICO, May 13.-An authorized person near President Diaz says that those favoring the abolition of the duty on paper in printing are bringing a strong pressure to bear on the government; but that the government will not accede to a total exemption from duty, although it will reduce the tariff. It is believed that he will be obliged to sell paper at a reduced price. Others are demanding the same privileges accorded him.

Crowds of the strikers and other persons bent on creating disorder paraded the streets to-day and acted in a riotous manner. The main street is cordoned. Strikers at Gera have destroyed nine pieces of finished goods and warps and fifty-seven looms. Carriages and Cobble-Stones.

Philadelphia Inquirer.

"If it was only my business that was concerned, I wouldn't want to see Broad street paved with asphalt," said a well-known carriage-builder yesterday, who is, how-ever, too generous-minded to look at the matter from this one-sided light. "The old-fashioned cobble-stone and Belgian block pavements," he continued, "make plenty of work both for wheel-wrights and horseshoers. The continual jolting over the rough surface strains the springs and wood work, loosens the tires and spokes of the wheels, and shortens the life of the average carriage or wagon by many years. Broad street, as of course, you know, is the medi-um of more daily travel by vehicles than almost any other street in the city, and the paving of it smoothly with asphalt would take money out of the pockets of the carriage-making people in the way of decreasing the quantity of repairs. On the other hand it would benefit us in another way, for there can be no doubt, but that with such a magnificent driving surface there would be an increased demand for pleasure carriages from people who do not keep them

The company is chartered under the laws of New York, with a capital stock of $250,000 and a reserve fund of $200,000. It is claimed that the company is doing seven different branches of business under the one charter in this State, and in order to comply with the laws of Illinois they would require a capital stock of $400,000 and a deposit fund of $650,000. They are also doing an accident insurance business, which requires a deposit of 50 per cent. of the gross commissions. It is expected the proceedings will lead to a long and bitterly-fought litigation.

The Working Girls Ahead. "Bab," in Philadelphia Times.

There have been two conventions of women's clubs lately in New York city, and I managed to get to both of them. I want to say right here and now that, although I am by birth and education a believer in caste and an ardent admirer of a titled aristocracy, still the working girls' clubs were a decidedly brighter, better looking set than the federation of clubs supposed to represent capital. They were younger; they did not represent le fin de siecle, but the beginning of it. When they spoke they knew what they were talking about; they said it in as few words as possible, and they didn't have to be told that their speeches were too long.

Cause of Large Scores.

CHICAGO, May 13 .- Secretary Brunell, of the Players' League, in an interview tonight, said the reasons for the large scores in the championship games are that they have so many crack batsmen. In addition to the batting stars of the old League, they have gained many from the American Association. Further, the weather, he said, was against the pitchers, besides the increase of eighteen inches in the pitching distance made it necessary for their pitchers to almost learn over again.

The Peru Team.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PERU, May 13 .- The game between Muncie and Peru to-day was postponed on account of inclement weather and the muddy condition of the grounds. The game is arousing much interest in this city, which heretofore has never evidenced any particular fondness for ball, and, coupled with the superb playing which the home team is doing, promises to be exceedingly remunerative to association stock-holders. The Peru team is now assumed to be in proper working condition, and, with new players added, it is claimed, will surprise its most ardent admirers. Several releases were made to-day and new strength added, namely: Stewart, second base; Leas. third base, and W. Lawrence, left field thus strengthening heretofore weak positions, and adding strong batters much

Why the Kemmler Writ Was Granted. AUBURN, N. Y., May 13 .- The Advertiser onblishes a private letter from United States Judge Wallace, setting forth his reasons for granting the writ of habeas corpus in the Kemmler case. After referring to the circumstances and conditions of the grant, which have already been covered in these dispatches, the Judge concindes: "In short, the writ was granted so that it might operate as a temporary stay. to allow a man under sentence of death a chance to be heard by the court of last resort. Whatever I may have thought as to the gravity of the questions raised. I know that I was not intallible, and was unwilling to permit a man to lose his life by a possible error of mine, when, by a temporary stay, he could obtain the opinion of the Supreme Court."
